

Greetings!

The U.S. Forest Service invites to you to apply for a unique experiential learning opportunity that will help you develop a broad range of technical and leadership skills while visiting some of the most beautiful places in the United States.

The International Forestry Fellows Program offers international internships of between 2 and 5 months to students and recent graduates from our partner universities. We have partnered with UPM since 2017, and we look forward to another great year ahead in 2019.

International Forestry Fellows bring enthusiasm, energy, and much needed skills to important natural resource management projects. Fellows also help their colleagues the Forest Service and communities learn about other parts of the world and explore different perspectives on the work we do.

Applications for the program are due December 7, 2018. Please find the instructions on how to apply and the available projects for 2019 on our new IFFP website:

www.ivp.internationalprograms.us/

The password for the site is: IFFP

For additional information, please contact our UPM IFFP Liaison, Leticia de Salas Regalado, or contact us via the web page.

We look forward to receiving your application!